Specify the version number of the new version.

If you are creating the documentation package for a managed package, match the number with the managed package's version number visible in Salesforce.

Create new documentation package version

All documentation attached in the Org Models from Documentation implementation implementation will be packaged into a single file that other users will be able to import into their own Org Models.

You can see who has installed a package, which version and manage version availability by going into the corporate settings via:
